Newsletter - ongoing - Calling all writers, editors, artists, help us design and produce our newsletter.

“OFFERING OF LETTERS”

More than a Hundred Letters

St. John’s members and recipients of its Food Pantry wrote 121 letters to our congressional leaders about world hunger as part of our annual offering of letters.

The letters went to Senators Jeff Bingaman and Pete Domenici and to Representative Tom Udall.

Six children contributed art that expressed their hopes that all the world’s people would be fed.

Thanks to all who participated, including new church administrator/secretary Karen Naranjo, who produced signs for the signup tables. Many people admired Sandy Szabat’s powerful display in Fellowship Hall.

Our effort this year was bolstered by the knowledge and experience of Marlita Reddy-Hjelmfelt, who is the Bread for the World coordinator for northern New Mexico and had previously participated in the offering of letters in our Michigan conferences.

Parenting Awareness

The Parenting Awareness series continues on Sunday, June 4th at 9:45a.m. in the Fellowship Hall with Mikahla Buetler, Licensed Mental Health Counselor.

Mikahla will lead a discussion on Relational Aggression for parents who would like to learn more about all types of bullying issues that their children deal with on a daily basis.

No matter what age, your child certainly has experienced some form of relational aggression.

Come and learn how to help your children cope with these difficult encounters.
